

March 2019

Issue: School boards are chronically underfunded, and on the heels of an election, education is not the place to make cuts. Locally-elected school boards are urging government to invest in education.

SAMPLE tweets– for voluntary school board use \*PLEASE FEEL FREE TO ADD OR REMOVE QUESTIONS AS YOU SEE FIT FOR YOUR LOCAL CONTEXT*****

---

- We believe in funding education to prepare Alberta’s next generation for success #ABelection #abed #abpoli
- Albertans want a strong and diversified economy. There is no better way to guarantee our future than by investing in education #ABelection
- We believe every student deserves the best opportunities to learn, no matter what needs they may have, no matter where they’re from.
- We believe our students deserve to have the resources needed to equip them for a diversified economy #ABelection #abed #abpoli
- Even in times of fiscal restraint, education is not the place to cut—it’s the place to invest #ABelection2019 #abed #abpoli
- We believe school boards should have the flexibility to be able to make the best choices for students #ABelection #abed #abpoli
- (1/2) We are asking government provide integrated services from the Ministry of Health and from Alberta Health Services.
- (2/2) The supports are there, our students just need access to them. #ABelection #abed #abpoli

- We are asking government to invest in education for a diversified future economy #ABelection #abed #abpoli
- We are asking government to invest in education so our kids can grow up ready for the future #ABelection2019 #abed #abpoli
- We are asking government to invest in education so our rural communities can thrive #ABelection #abed #abpoli
- We are asking government to invest in education so students with complex needs can get the education they deserve #ABelection #abed #abpoli